

Throw Another Dime Into The Well

Throw another dime into the well
another dime or two
Throw another dime into the well
That rainy day is comin' soon

One more drop will feed the soil
The cracks will mend and ease the toil
Then solid ground turns to mud
The banks will break, then the flood

Throw another dime into the well
another dime or two
Throw another dime into the well
That rainy day is comin' soon

Bet it all on the barrelhead
Said goodbye to every cent
Send down some pennies from heaven
Or else, there's just no tellin'

Throw another dime into the well
another dime or two
Throw another dime into the well
That rainy day is comin' soon

A dollar short and a day late
Toss the coin, have a little faith
Like earth, wind and fire
They can raise the dead or take you alive

The heavy curse of way back when They'll lay me down before I lose it all again
Hold em' tight, let the others fold
The clouds are rollin' in

Throw another dime into the well
another dime or two
Throw another dime into the well
That rainy day is comin' soon
