

You Changed Me For Good

I love you for patience when I walked through your door you could tell that I'd never loved a woman before I'm not sure you knew I'd be coming back for more darling, you changed me for good

I love you for letting me buy this old guitar I try to write down how lucky we are as long as these strings keep on ringing I'll never go too far

Forgive me for thinking our path would run straight we'd waltz on down
by some divine fate
you brought me round
before it was too late

I love you for singing it's what a songbird should do
me sing along too as long as i am living it's all I want to do

by some divine fate
